

Ways that you can help MRFA&E through tax-deductible donations:

1. Contributions by individuals, Organizations, and Businesses.

We encourage you to contact your employer to determine if they have a matching gifts program to help make your donation go further. Many companies encourage their employees to donate to their favorite charities by matching their contributions, sometimes dollar for dollar or more. Simply request a matching gift from your employer, and send it completed and signed with your donation.

2. Contributions to the Young Activist Scholarship Fund.

MRFA&E has created a Young Activist Scholarship Fund (YASF). It is no secret that there is an increased need for younger motorcyclists to get involved in motorcycle safety and awareness programs. To that end, MRFA&E created YASF to recognize deserving and promising candidates between the ages of 18 and 30 years old. Eligible candidates may receive a scholarship to attend MRFA&E educational programs held at the Motorcycle Riders Foundation's annual Meeting of the Minds national conference.

3. Honor and Memorial Donations.

What better way to keep a motorcyclist's memory alive than to make a donation in his/her memory to promote motorcycle safety and awareness.

4. Legacy Program.

The Legacy Program allows you to integrate your generosity with your overall financial, tax and estate planning goals to maximize benefits for both you and the MRFA&E. When you make a future planned gift to the MRFA&E, you really are funding the future of motorcycle safety and awareness. Making Legacy Program donations can be as simple as naming the MRFA&E as a full or partial beneficiary of an insurance policy, will, estate, or trust.

You may also make a donation on the MRFA&E website at www.mrfae.org using any major credit card or your PayPal account.

Motorcycle Riders Foundation Awareness and Education, Inc. (MRFA&E) was established to promote motorcycle awareness and education due to an ever-increasing rider population creating a greater need. Motorcycle riders and activists have long recognized that motorcycle rider education and awareness are crucial in enhancing rider safety. No one is more concerned with rider safety than riders themselves, and obviously those best suited to educate new and experienced riders are veteran riders who have had extensive training in how to teach the best practices. In addition, there are programs already in place across the nation that are willing to share their expertise and materials with others.

To achieve the mission of the MRFA&E, a database has been created on the MRFA&E website (mrfae.org) that includes the following:

Links to motorcycle safety programs and rider education courses that are currently offered and promoted in every state in the union by State Motorcycle Rights Organizations (SMROs) and other fully qualified organizations. This listing assists riders seeking training to quickly and easily find locations and information regarding local rider training programs.

Links to motorcycle awareness safety related audio, video and print materials shared by SMROs and other knowledgeable entities that can be used by anyone for free.

State proclamations for Motorcycle Awareness Month and other important issues that can be used as templates for your organization.

Educational Programs

The MRFA&E has developed outreach programs to address impaired riding, motorcyclist awareness, motorist awareness, and motorcycling skills:

The 3Rs: Designed to teach motorcyclists that there are many forms of impairment each of which can produce horrific consequences.

Seminars: Who Controls Your Safety, Curves and Intersections, What You See When You Ride, Gathering Your States Data, and Bikesafe: Basic Riding Skills That Can Save Your Life.

Share the Road: Designed to help motor vehicle operators become more aware of motorcyclists. This classroom presentation is offered at safety workshops, schools, industry safety meetings, and driver education classes.

Smart Trainer: A riding simulator that puts the rider in a “virtual” on-road motorcycling world where he/she controls a motorcycle while being subjected to hazards and obstacles encountered in everyday riding.

Riding Demonstrations: A significant percentage of motorcycle crashes happen in corners and due to inadequate braking techniques. MRFA&E presents live demonstrations at various conferences and workshops that inform riders of strategies they can use to make their riding experience safer and more enjoyable.

A synopsis of these programs may be found on our website (MRFAE.org).
